What is the Roth contribution option?

A Roth contribution to your retirement savings plan allows you to make after-tax contributions and take any associated earnings completely tax free at retirement - as long as the distribution is a qualified one. A qualified distribution, in this case, is one that is taken at least five tax years after your first Roth 403(b) contribution and after you have attained age 59½, or become disabled or die. Through automatic payroll deduction, you may contribute between 1% and 100% of your eligible compensation as designated Roth contributions, up to the annual IRS dollar limits. Starting in 2026, if your FICA wages from the prior calendar year with your current employer exceeded $150,000, any age 50 catch-up contributions to the Plan must be made as Roth contributions. If your FICA wages were $150,000 or less, you can designate your catch-up contribution to be pretax or Roth.

What catch-up contribution can I make?

If you have reached age 50 or will reach 50 during the calendar year January 1 – December 31 and are making the maximum plan or IRS contribution, you may make an additional catch-up contribution each pay period. The maximum annual catch-up contribution is $8,000. Going forward, catch-up contribution limits will be subject to cost-of-living adjustments (COLAs) in $500 increments.
